

China's FTA Policy after the Establishment of the Trump Administration (Summary)

SHEN Minghui

Professor, National Institute of International Strategy, Chinese Academy of Social Sciences

KONG Dapeng

Graduate Student, Chinese Academy of Social Sciences

After US President Trump took office, his administration has implemented a series of protectionist policies, which seriously damage the international trading system and have a negative impact on the development of the world economy. Even in the context of the current prevalence of trade protectionism, China will continue to support the multilateral trading system of the World Trade Organization. At the same time, with the Pilot Free-Trade Zones and independent opening-up as platforms, China will further participate in regional economic integration and promote the upgrading of FTA strategy.

[Translated by ERINA]